What is VigRX?

How does VigRX work?

There are two parts of the penis called the Corpora Cavernosa which are responsible for the strength and size of an erection. Just as a balloon will become larger and firmer with the more air that is blown in to it, an erection will become bigger and stronger with the more blood that is pumped in to the Corpora Cavernosa.

VigRX's unique blend of special ingredients, such as Hawthorn Berry, work to increase the body's blood circulation. This means that more blood is pumped to the penis, equalling in larger and stronger erections. Over time, this increased blood flow to the penis during erections will cause it to grow naturally and will make the penis look both longer and wider.
